There is no vaccine for Zika. If you or your partner has traveled to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you or your partner has traveled to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika

There is no vaccine for Zika.

If you get the Zika virus, it can be passed to your unborn baby before or around the time of birth and cause serious harm.

If you or your partner has been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms every time you have any type of sex for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for the entire pregnancy—or don’t have sex.

If you have been to an area with Zika, talk to your healthcare provider.

Use condoms for at least 8 weeks after travel if only the female partner traveled, even if she has no symptoms.

Use condoms for at least 6 months after travel if the male partner traveled, even if he has no symptoms.

For more information on Zika and affected areas, visit www.cdc.gov/zika